LABOR BOARD MAKES RAIL CUT WIDESPREAD

RAIL LABOR BOARD SLASHES WAGES ON ALL RAILROADS

Decision Announced Today Makes Slash Effective on 80 Additional Roads.

EMPLOYEES ARE NOW BALLOTING

Representatives of Four Big Brotherhoods to Meet in Chicago on July 1st.

Chicago, Ill. June 27.—The United States Railroad Labor Board today ordered the wages of employees of 80 railroads slashed 12 per cent July 1st. The decision merely makes the reduction announced several weeks ago apply to all the railroads in the country in addition to the few included in the original decision.. The first decision given in favor of several small roads was the result of cases thrown before the board as a test.

Employees Balloting

Employees affiliating with the American Federation of Labor are now voting whether to accept the wage cut or to strike. Representatives of the four big rail brotherhoods will meet here on July 1st to accept or reject the reduction. In case of rejection there will be a plebiscite of membership.

CONGRESS STARTS ON "BIG WEEK" OF THIS SESSION

Fate of Many Pieces of Legislation Now Hangs in Balance.

Washington, June 27.—Congress today started on the "big week" of the present session. Prohibition, the tariff, disarmament, the making of peace, and the foreign debt situation are up for active consideration within a day or two. In addition, conferences between leaders, and with the President may determine whether there is to be any recess during the summer, and besides may decide the fate of much legislation.

Here is the way the big units of the week stand:

Prohibtion.

The Campbell-Willis Anti-Beer Bill comes up in the House today. It is expected to pass before night and will then go to the Senate where it will probably get through before the end of the week.

Tariff.

The Permanent Tariff Bill comes out of the House Ways and Means Committee Wednesday to face a growing opposition from Republicans, many of whom oppose some of the duties and other who want to put it aside for tax revision. The measure is to be taken up by the Republicans

WHEELS START TURNING TO MANUFACTURE IRISH PEACE—ENGLAND STILL DAZED

DeValera Guaranteed Safe Conduct to Attend Conference With His Colleagues and Figure Out a Way to Settle Difficulties.

London, Eng., June 27.—Wheels began to turn today for the manufacture of an Irish peace. Still dazed by Prime Minister Lloyd George's sudden action last week in calling Eamon DeValera and Sir James Craig into conference, England waited hopefully for the settlement of the long standing Irish question.

DeValera, under the terms of the Premier's offer, will be allowed to take whatever colleagues he desires into the conference. Their safety is guaranteed.

Nominally DeValera is asking his associates whether it is worth while to consider Lloyd George's offer. Actually it is believed he is considering what would make up the strongest Sinn Fein delegation.

KANSAS MINERS WILL MAKE A STRONG FIGHT

Union Officials on Trial for Violation of Court Decision in Strike Case.

Columbus, Kansas, June 27.—Alexander Howitt and Alfred Dougherty President and vice President of the United Mine Workers of Kansas, began a most determined stand here today against the Kansas Industrial Court. Trial of the two on charges of violation of the felony clause of the court's decision recalled in the Mattick mine strike, began in District Judge Boss' court here today.

Few Answered Call

Only about 300 miners answered the call of Secretary Freeman to appear during the trial. He issued a call to all unnion men to "take a week's vacation to attend the trial." "They will be here by the thousands after the jury is selected" Freeman said today. All of today and part of tomorrow is expected to be consumed in the selection of the jury.

ANOTHER JUDGE FOR PENNSYLANIA

Washington, June 27.—Appointment of an additional United States Judge for eastern Pennsylvania is authorized in a bill introduced in the Senate today by Senator Penrose, of Pennsylvania.

DAWES WILL CALL DEPARTMENT HEADS TOGETHER ON WED.

Washington, D. C., June 27.—Acting by direction of President Harding, Charles Dawes, the New Commissioner of the budget, has called a meeting Wednesday afternoon of all heads and assistant heads of executive departments of independent government executive departments, chief clerks and buerau chiefs. Dawes plans to explain his plans for putting the government on a sound financial basis under the new budget law.

MUNICIPAL STRIKE NOW ON IN QUEBEC

Policemen and Firemen Quit Jobs—Disgusted With Wage Awards of Arbitration Board.

Quebec, Ont. June 27.—Troops guarded all municipal buildings and bridges here today as a result of the strike of firemen and police, called early yesterday over disputes regarding wage awards of the arbitration board.

Small Boys Run Wild

Over 200 false alarms of fire were rung in after the strike went into effect. Small boys, reveling in unwonted freedom from restraint, raided police and fire stations, smashed windows and played havoc in general.

Citizens began to fear a repetition of vandalism which marked the Boston police strike, but a detachment from a Royal Regiment stationed here put an end to their fears. No serious crimes had been reported this forenoon.

KY. OFFICIALS PUZZLED BY FIRE MYSTERY

Eleven Persons Trapped in Burning Cabin; Two Families Wiped Out.

Mayfield, Ky., June 27.—County officials under the leadership of Sheriff Marion McGain today vainly tried to piece the mystery surrounding the deaths of 11 persons, two entire families, whose charred remains were found in the smoking ruins of a three room log cabin near here yesterday.

Neighbors heard screams and gun shots about midnight ,and rushing to the home of Ernest Lawrence were met with a wall of flame. After the ruins cooled 11 bodies were recovered.

Several Theories et

Bits of clothing clung to some of the bodies, giving rise to the belief the families had not retired for the night. A pistol was found near the bodies with three chambers discharged. Various theories have been advanced ,but Sheriff McCain is inclined to believe some enemy of the family turned wholesale slaughterer, or one of the persons may have become demented.

TWO FLIERS HOP OFF ON LONG JAUNT

Riverside, California, June 27.—David Davis and Eric Springer hopped off at 5:32 this morning in their "cloudster" on the first lap of what they intend to be a 24 hours cross country flight to New York City. The men expect, if possible, to eat breakfast tomorrow morning in New York.

BOOTLEGGERS WHO WORKED IN COUNTY FINALLY PINCHED

Dusky Pair Nabbed at Fort Gorman Believed to Have Sold Much Hootch in Clearfield County.

Grace All, a lady of color, with a gentleman friend also of ebony hue, were landed in Fort Gorman yesterday on a commitment issued by 'Squire J. W. Laing, of Coalport, charging the pair with promiscous and varied violation of the liquor law. It is alleged the pair have been doing a general bootlegging business up in the Coalport country.

CLEARFIELD PAYS TRIBUTE TO HER WARRIOR DEAD

Body of John Lewis Shade Laid to Rest Sunday With Military Ceremonies.

The last tribute of respect was paid the memory of Private John Lewis Shade when his mortal remains were deposited in the family plot in Calvary cemetery Sunday afternoon, after being brought more than three thousand miles across the sea.

The body of the dead hero arrived in Clearfield Thursday last and a church funeral was held in St. Francis church Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, where a requiem high mass was celebrated by Rev. Father M. A. Ryan.

Following this service the body was conveyed to the Court House to lie in state until the time for the public funeral, which was set for Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The members of John Lewis Shade Post of the American Legion had charge of the funeral arrangements and maintained a guard of honor over the remains from the time they were placed in the Court House until consigned to their last resting place.

Paid Loyal Tribute.

The people of the community paid full loyal tribute to the memory of the young Marine, the first Clearfield boy to fall in battle, and after whom the local Legion post was named. An exceptionally large concourse of people were on hand to attend the exercises in the Court House and follow the remains to the cemetery. Rev. Father Ryan officiated and delivered a brief but touchingly patriotic funeral oration over the remains in the court room and gave the body final absolution in a short military ceremony at the grave.

The American Legion Band and the Legion to the number of some two hundred marched in the funeral procession, which was also augmented by a large number of automobiles.

S. A. Mellott spent Sunday with his family on Spruce street.

Misses Gladys and Olive Long returned to their home in State College today after a ten day's visit with Esther and Elizabeth Kittelberger.

Train Leaving Here at 8:20 Comes to Grief at Derby Station—Open Switch Responsible for Crash—Engine Derailed; Caboose and Two Freight Cars Damaged—Only Slight Injuries to Passengers and Crew.

The Pennsylvania passenger train leaving Clearfield for Tyrone at 8:20 this morning was wrecked at Derby Junction, just outside of Philipsburg at 9:10 this morning. The engine of the passenger train was derailed and the caboose and two cars of the freight train on the siding more or less wrecked and jammed up.

Train Travelling At Fair Rate.

The train was bowling along at a fair rate of speed and when the Derby siding was reached Engineer Johnson noticed the switch was open with the caboose of a freight train on the siding looming up ahead of him a few rods away. The distance between the two trains was too short to avoid a collision, but Engineer Johnson's prompt action saved a more serious smash-up. He clamped on the air, reversed his engine, but the weight of the train shoved the big machine ahead over the rails, with the wheels sliding, and the train crashed into the rear end of the caboose, smashing the coach and wrecking the two cars ahead of it. The engine was derailed but fortunately did not overturn.

Fireman Jumped.

Fireman Watson jumped when he saw the collision unavoidable but Engineer Johnson bravely stuck to his post, and was lucky enough to escape injury.

The force of the collision threw the passengers out of their seats and while none were seriously injured several suffered minor cuts and bruises.

County Commissioner M. L. Farrell, with his wife and baby, and his mother, were passengers on the train en route to Glenn Falls, New York, to attend the wedding of William J. Farrell, brother of the commissioner. The elder Mrs. Farrell was thrown from her seat and suffered injuries to her back and nose.

Boy Cut By Glass.

A boy, whose name was not learned; was cut about the face by broken window glass, while two men passengers were also slightly cut about the head. In all some eight or ten passengers received slight injuries, but none were seriously injured and no employes were hurt.

Conductor Harry Bell was in charge of the train and following the wreck he had the passengers taken into Philipsburg in automobiles where they rested in comfort until another engine could be secured to haul the train, none of the cars of which were amaged.

Mrs. Farrel received medical treatment at Philipsburg and was able to ontinue her journey to Glenn Falls.

Henry Wallace, William Hoover, nd John Paterson were among the ther Clearfielders aboard the wrecked train, but all were lucky to get off without injury.

DISREGARD OF AUTO PARKING RULES IS THE CAUSE OF CRASH

Car Obliged to Turn Out to Pass Wagon Collides With Truck — Occupants Shaken Up.

The parking of automobiles on both sides of the street in the business section of our town is a dangerous practice. It has already resulted in one fatality—the death of the little Sughrue girl over on Nichols street several weeks ago. It was primarily responsible for an accident on Second st. Saturday morning when the car of Mrs. Will Batchellor, of Glen Richey collided with the truck of Routch & Swartzle in front of Beahans store.

There was a double line of automobiles parked along the street between Cherry and Market street: which forced the Adams Express company wagon to halt almost in the middle of the street while making a delivery at Beahan's. The Batchellor car containning several ladies came down Second street and pulled out to go around the wagon just as the truck attempted the same thing coming up street. Only the carefulness and good judgment of the drivers of both machines averted a serious smashup. As it was the occupants of the car were shaken up and more or less frightened. While both machines suffered minor damages .

HOOVER CAMP IS AGAIN VISITED BY ROBBERS

Entered for Second Time Last Monday—Dishes and Tinware Taken by Thieves.

The camp of Henry Hoover on Little Trout Run in Goshen township was entered again by thieves on Monday of last week and robbed of dishes, tinware, etc.

Three Bradford township men are already under arrest for a previous robbery of the Hoover camp and an effort will be made to round up these latest thieves.

It was reported known in that section that Perry McDowell, of Bradford, had been charged with assisting in the robbery of this camp but Mr. Hoover says this is not true that Mr. McDowell had nothing to do with it and was never even suspected of being implicated.

Misses Mary McGannon and Ida Allen. of DuBois, visited Clearfield friends and relatives Sunday.

AMERICAN LEGION FOURTH OF JULY INDUSTRIAL PARADE TO BE BIG ONE

Sixty-Seven Business and Industrial Houses to Enter Floats.

The Industrial feature of the American Legion's Fourth of July celebration promises to be the biggest affair of its kind ever attempted in Clearfield. This parade or showing will be truly representative of the progress our busy little city is making. Thus far sixty-seven business and idustrial concerns have signified their intention of entering one or more floats, while some will be represented by as many as five separate displays. A great deal of time and money is being spent on this feature, as each firm endeavors to excell his neighbor in the general excellence of his exhibit, with a view to copping the handsome prize to be given for the best float. This prize will be a beautiful all-silk parade flag valued at $75 and will be awarded by the judges to the firm or society judged to have the best float in line.

All details of the parade,, line of march, names of marshals, positions, judges, etc., will be announced in The Progress in the near future.

Some Yet to Report.

There are still a few concerns to hear from regarding the part they propose to take in the industrial parade and the committee in charge is anxious to hear from them as soon as possible that they may be assigned a place in the parade.

Those Who Have Answered Call.

Following is a list of those who will be represented in the parade:

THE MAN CAME BACK

A MAN WAS PASSING the Bank the other day when he noticed a sign in the window which suggested that he save a part of his money.

At first he smiled. Why was the Bank so anxious that he save his money? It was true he had $10 in his pocket that could be spared, but he had not thought of laying it away.

"If I save this $10 now", he said, "it will come back to me later with interest money added".

So he turned and came back to the Bank to start a new savings account with that $10. Many people pass the Bank every day with money they could easily save if they were only willing to make small deposits often.

Made In Clearfield

In our windows we have a very interesting exhibit of the products of Clearfield's manufacturing concerns.

We believe the people of the community do not fully realize what a variety of goods are produced in our town.

This exhibit has been arranged to show the development of Clearfield's manufacturing industries.

New Offerings in Lingerie

NOW that June is not far away, the shops are all showing fine underthings, or the materials for making them, for brides-to-be; and they are entitled to point with pride to the quality and character of this year's offerings. Designs are simple and practical, materials fine and beautiful. Trimmings are not at all lavishly used, but present themselves with a flavor of refinement, which has not been excelled; with drawnwork, hemstitching, faggoting, infinitesimal tuks and delicate embroidery, all done by hand.

In materials, crepe de chine, chiffon cloth, handkerchief linen, fine batiste predominate and the color favored is rose pink, which is even a little more liked than white. Other colors are shown, but none of them have become rivals of pink or white, except among negligees and dressing jackets or bed jackets. These select what they will in color and their choice falls upon many a flower-like hue in georgette, satin, crepe de chine, with cream-colored lace and ribbon flowers bearing them company.

Two combinations, in which knickerbockers take the place of the usual short petticoats, are among the underslips that entice the bride, to add the most up-to-date of garments to her trousseau. In one of these the bodice is decorated with embroidered flowers and the knickers with a band of lace insertion about the knees, with little bows of narrow ribbon for embellishment. In the other, the knickers are plain and the bodice enriched by a band of filet lace at the top. Shoulder straps of satin ribbon are almost universal in combinations.

Fine val lace is not outrivaled, but has competitors in net bandings and borders, which make a very new decoration for petticoats of crepe de chine. Appliqué flowers, cut out of silk, and outline embroidery find the net their ideal background.

THE MARKET TREND

Alexander Hamilton Institute reports just issued say since the first week of May the active industrial stocks have declined from 10 to 15 points, altho railroad stocks dropped only four or five points and railroad bonds only two point.

The leading factor in the decline was the fact that the manipulative interests who advanced prices so courageously at the end of April, found that the general public were not buying. Professional speculative interests thereupon tried to sell to each other. Under such conditions manipulative policy was reversed. Stocks previously bought were sold and prices were hammered down to a level low enough to force brokers to sell out weakly margined accounts. The latter policy was successful in a measure during the first week of June, but the number of investments accounts with weak margins was not great so that losses were not as considerable as in November and December.

In addition to the absence of buying power on the part of the general public, a number of influences have tended to undermine investment sentiment during the past month. The U. S. Treasury withdrew government deposits from the banks at a rapid rate. Taxpayers in anticipation of payments on June 15 were temporarily short of investment funds, or at least conservative about making commitments. As a result of Treasury withdrawals and the husbanding of cash resources by taxpayers, the rate on call money advanced to 7 1-2 per cent. the first of June. Another adverse influence was the absorption of bank credit on account of the recent $230 million Burlington railway loan and $100 million French loan. These issues, it is true, were largely for refunding purposes, but they were only moderately successful. Heaviness in the bond market developed despite the general tendency toward lower interest rates.

Another temporary factor was the removal of the artificial basis of lending on Liberty Bonds which has prevailed for several years. During the war Liberty Bond buyers were told that they would be as good as cash and the banks in many cases renewed loans on the basis of the par value. From now on, however loans will be made in proportion to the actual market value. The removal of this artificial peg caused some heaviness in Liberty Bonds.

Finally, the sudden drop in the foreign exchange tended to confuse sentiment in the money market. The sudden decline in sterling and francs was attributed to the sale of those currencies by the German Government in order to realize a supply of American dollars for deposit in New York, as provided in the reparations tterms stipulated by the Allies. Eventually, of course, this accuculation of German indemnity funds in New York will react in favor of the finances of Great Britian and France, and it is also likely that part of the recent slump in the foreign exchanges was due to speculative short selling by some of the international bankers who are well acquainted with the broader aspects of the indemnity transactions.

BUILDING

The attitude of labor as expressed in wage disputes, especially in New England and the middle west, has seriously retarded building operations although increased activity resulted in a larger total of contracts awarded in May than in April. The F. W. Dodge Company's valuation of contracts awarded during May in 25 northeastern states is $232,000,000 as compared with $221,000,000 in April and $247,000,000 in May, 1920. The valuation of building permits granted in the principal cities of the United States during May shows a decline from the April total of about 6 per cent., indicating that the usual seasonal decline in building operations is in effect.

OPPOSE LUMBER TARIFF

Washington, June 27.—Flat opposition to a tariff on lumber "in any form" was voiced in a communication addressed to members of Congress from Pennsylvania by the Retail Lumber Dealers Association of Pennsyvania!

The House Ways and Means Committee has adopted a tariff of twenty-five per cent ad valorem on all finished lumber. This tariff was not requested by the lumber industry and is opposed by a greater part of the industry.

The communication received by the Pennsylvania members of Congress follows:

"We understand that the Ways and Means Committee on June 7th adopted the Canadian tariff to apply on our import from that country. While this provides that all rough lumber shall shall come in free it also contains a 25 per cent ad valorem duty on all finished lumber. It is the finished lumber that goes into the building of our homes. If the proposal of the Ways and Means Committee is adopted not one foot of finished lumber can be imported into this country. This proposal is three or four times higher than the Payne-Aldrich rates of 1909 on finished lumber.

"If the lumber comes in in the rough free of duty it means that the consumer must not only pay the regular mill price but also must pay the difference in the freight cost between the rough and the finished lumber. In addition to this the consumer must pay the cost of putting this rough lumber through a planing mill in this country in order to fit for his usage. Exactly what does this mean? Assume a carload of fir lumber is imported from Vancouver, B. C., to New York City in the rough instead of in the dressed state. The difference in the weight between rought and dressed fir lumber is about 700 pounds to the 1,000 feet. The freight rate from Vancouver to New York is $1.065 per 100 pounds. This means that the freight cost of importing the rough lumber is about $7.50 per thousand feet more than importing the dressed lumber. The rough lumber must be put through a planing mill in this country in order to dress it down, which is an additional cost of $1.50 per thousand feet. This means that the consumer is to pay $9.00 per thousand feet more for the Canadian product. It means that the American manufacturer has an added leeway in his mill price of $12.00 per thousand feet in competition with the imports from Canada. It means that the price of building material with the shortage of one million and a quarter homes is to be increased—not lessened.

"It means that Canada cannot ship her dressed lumber in here, and it further accentuates our own timber depletion. Canada has a much greater supply of standing timber per capita of consumption than has the United States, and since the United States does now and has in the past shipped its lumber into Canada in large quantities and undersold the Canadian manufacturer in the Canadian market, it is apparent that where a duty on dressed lumber going into Canada might be entirely justified because of the higher cost of porduction in Canada, yet the porblem of the United States is to obtain every foot of Canadian lumber possible at the lowest cost in order to save its own timber supply.

"It is authoritatively stated that about 60 per cent of all of the white pine coming into this counry from Canada comes in in the dressed form. This proposed duty would absolutely embargo the importations of this pine in the face of facts contained in the report of the Chief Forester in Senate Resolution 311, published June 1st, 1920, that the white pine supply in this country is nearly exhausted, and that only the State of Idaho has any appreciable quantity of white pine left and that it is estimated this state will be entirely cut out of this wood within 20 years.

"The American Foresry Association in their various circulars warn the public that the United States will face a timber famine within 50 years. The Chief Forester in the above-mentioned report warns the country in unmistakable terms of the great depletion of our timber reserves. Reciprocity is not at issue when conditions in the two countires are absolutely opposite. Every piece of lumber imported is just that much saved in the stump of our own supply. This proposed duty means first, accentuated depletion of our waning timber supply, second an immediate increase in the cost of lumber to the home builder. It will offset largely or entirely the legislation passed by the various states exempting the new building from taxation and fixing low rats of interest on building loans. A $250 to $300 increase in the cost of the lumber and shingles going into the average workingman's dwelling is equivalent to 4 to 6 years of taxes. We trust that you will use your influence to defeat any measure which provides for any tariff at all on Canadian lumber whether rough or dressed.

"Yours very truly,
W. B. STRAYER, Secretary."

NASH

Lower Prices on Nash Cars

Effective July 2

Nash prices will be reduced, effective July 2.

This conforms to our statement made last October that Nash prices would be maintained until at least July 1, 1921.

The reasons were plain. Until manufacturing costs were lower we could not cut price without cutting value, as Nash prices were not inflated.

We pointed out then that while the average rise in the price of motor cars far a four-year period had been 76% the price of Nash cars had been raised but 31%.

This 31% included the addition of cord tires as standard equipment and many other additions and refinements which added materially to the value of Nash cars.

So we re-affirmed our fixed intention of rigidly upholding the high quality of Nash cars.

Since then every effort of the Nash organization has been centered on effecting sound manufacturing economies.

New labor-saving devices were added and production practice so perfected that every process of Nash manufacture is a model of efficiency and economy.

The savings have been substantial. And they demonstrate as nothing else could demonstrate the remarkable Nash ability to produce fine cars at the lowest possible cost.

Even while working production costs downward we were improving Nash cars still further.

Now we can announce for July 2 a greater Nash value than ever at a reduced purchase price.

At the new prices the leadership of Nash cars is even more emphatically apparent.

Here Are the New Nash Prices Effective July 2

A CORRECTION

The Progress on Saturday last published an item of local interest taken from one of the Pittsburgh newspaper which stated that Dr. C. T. Hennig, a former resident, had disposed of his interest in the Nickle Alloys Company at Hyde and the Nickle Fabricating Company at Philipsburg to G. W. Webster.

Dr. Hennig informs The Progress that there is no truth whatever in the story and that he still retains the interests he is alleged to have sold and has no idea of disposing of them.

of the river front, but will be of great advantage from a sanitary or health standpoint.

The original dam, which is being temporarily repaired again this year is in very bad shape and should be replaced next year by a permanent construction of a substantial nature. Very much of the old dam has been undermined or washed out and the Street Commissioner had a serious job repairing it this time. It is expected the repairs made will last through the year, but next spring's ice flood will tear out the temporary repairs, and possibly the remainder of the original dam, out again, and plans should be made now for a permanent dam to be constructed next year. Such a dam will go further toward beautifying the river front than any plan yet suggester, and will cost a great deal less than some plans we have heard offered.

The temporary dam will be completed about the middle of the week.

BANDIT WANTED FOR MURDER IS CAUGHT BY COP

Pittsburg Man's Slayer Arrested in Homestead Friday.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 27.—Gilbert Kelly, alleged slayer of James Neal, assistant superintendent of Boggs & Buhl department store, who was murdered during a hold up in which he was robbed of $18,000, is to be confronted with his parent today following a confession he is said to have made to police.

Arrested in Homestead.

He was arrested in Homestead Friday but his capture was held a secret until yesterday. James Cavanaugh, Homestead policeman, who made the arrest, will claim the $2,000 reward offered.

Only $20 of Kelly's share of the loot was recovered, according to police.

Spotted Wall Paper.

Marks where people have rested their heads can be removed from wall paper by mixing pipe clay with water to the consistency of cream, laying it on the spot and letting it remain until the following day, when it can be brushed off. The mark, unless it is of long standing, will be found to have vanished.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

"By Skinney"

We always understood those Iowa farmers were strong on morality and regulation, but we didn't know they were so disgusted "blue" until a friend handed us the following clipping from the Hopkinton, (Ia.) Leader:—

"Local pill-rollers are assured of their supply of the ready-made and makings after the first of July, when the new cigarette law becomes effective. F. R. Tesar made application to the council for a dealer's license, and it was granted at an adjourned meeting held Tuesday evening. There is a lot of machinery attached to the privilege of selling. Mr. Tesar pays the town a license fee of $50 per year, deposits a bond for $1,000 with two securities, and pledges himself not to sell or give away cigarets to minors. He must buy revenue stamps from the state and none can be legally sold without stamps upon the package. No one not 21 years of age is permitted to buy or smoke cigarets and a penalty is attached to a violation. Any peace officer or teacher who detects a minor in the act has authority to begin proceedings. No doubt there will be cigaret bootleggers, for there is always a tempting premium put upon contraband stuff, but it will be a precarious enterprise for any one to engage in. The state department is planning to have a force of deputies gumshoeing about to pick up violat-

You never can please some women. We struggled along for years and by voice and vote helped woman, lovely woman get equal suffrage and all that it means or doesn't mean, and now we have Clara Burnside, of Indianapolis, the only woman police captain in the country, get right up in meeting and tell us that woman's moral standards have declined perceptibly since they have been raised above vassal status. The "old girl" wields a wicked tongue, however; just read what she told the Social Work conference at Milwaukee last week:—

"Women have demanded equal rights and privileges with men," she said. "Although indications are that, instead of men coming up to women's moral standards, women have come down to men's this is only the inevitable swing of the pendulum to extremes which occur before all great equalizations."

The latest Parisian fad now is athletic arms and legs for women, and after the aforesaid appendages have been brought to a proper state of development they must be shown to an admiring public unencumbered by sleeves or socks. The new style is known as "back to the primitive" and promises to be quite popular.

SUSQUEHANNA CHAPTER OF D. A. R. CELEBRATES 25TH ANNIVERSARY

The Susquehanna Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution celebrated its twenty-fifth anniversary on Tuesday evening, June 21 at "Wayside," the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Reed on Old Town Road.

The house and grounds—lavishly decorated with flags and flowers—made a perfect setting for such an occasion and Master Fred B. Reed, Jr., a diminutive George Washington, in complete colonial costume, greeted the guests at the door as they arrived.

The Chapter, which was formed in March, 1896 through the earnest efforts of Mrs. A. B. Weaver, its first regent, has expanded from an original membership of fourteen to a flourishing and influential oragnization with seventy-three names upon its roll, and a record of patriotic service both locally and throughout the State of which its founder may well be proud.

Mrs. Anthony Wayne Cook of Brookville, vice president general and a loyally supported Pennsylvania candidate for president general, and Mrs. Edwin Erle Sparks, state regent of Pennsylvania, were the honor guests and each paid gratifying tribute to the Chapter's 100 per cent efficiency in both state and national patriotic work.

Mrs. J. Frank Snyder, Regent of Susquehanna Chapter, welcomed the visitors with graciously appropriate remarks which were followed by brief but entertaining responses from Mrs. Cook, Mrs. Sparks and Mrs. James P. O'Laughlin, vice regent of the chapter.

Miss Virginia Bigler, corresponding secretary, read a number of communications from various absent "Daughters," some of whom were members of the pioneer organization. Among these letters was a graceful message from Mrs. Alexander Ennis Patton, a former state regent and vice president general of the national society. Much of the Chapter's success is due to the unflagging interest and wholehearted devotion of Mrs. Patton and it was deeply regretted that she was unable to be present to take a leading part in its anniversary celebration.

Following the preliminary formalities the Marseillaise was beautifully sung by Mrs. E. C. Reeve and the Chapter and its guests were delightfully entertained by a one-act play entitled "George Washington's First Defeat." The three members of the cast—Miss Laura Fulford, Mrs. George Reed, and Mrs. E. C. Reeve—acquitted themselves admirably and amply deserved the generous applause which greeted their interpretation of the spirited dialogue.

Refreshments, plentiful and palatable, of which the crowning feature was a sumptuous cake radiant with the glow of twenty-five candles, brought a highly successful birthday party to a charming close.

Members of the Chapter and others from out of town include: Mrs. Anthony Wayne Cook of Brookville, Mrs. Edwin Erle Sparks and Miss Sparks of State College, Mrs. Roland Davis Swoope, ex-Regent, and Miss Swoope of Curwensville, Miss Bessie Summerville, a charter member, Miss Mary Summerville and Miss Platt, Winburne, Mrs. J. O. Clark, Glen Campbell, Mrs. T. I. Welles, Wilkes-Barre, and Mrs. Weston of Kane.

THE BARNESBORO DISASTER.

The collapse of a moving picture theatre at Barnesboro, Cambria county, resulting in death to eight persons and injuries to nine more, is a matter that should command the attention of the entire state to guard against a repetition of such horrors. The fall of the structure is declared due to excavating beside it, one of the foundation walls crumbling. Frightful negligence on the part of the borough officers and the owner of the theatre are written all over the affair. When a building used as a place of public amusement is allowed to become so decrepit as to fall while filled with men, women and children, killing eight and injuring a number of others, it is utterly impossible to deny carelessness. When it is stated that no complaint had been filed against the structure, it only raises the question as to why there was no officer in Barnesboro, a town of more than 4,000 inhabitants, with sufficient interest in public safety—with sufficient regard for duty—to take such action. A building does not instantly become so weak as to fall; it gives signs of its decay for some time previously. Certainly as excavating was going on beside it, common sense should have instructed the authorities of the law—the "guardians" of the public—that there was danger.

No excuse should be tolerated. All responsibile should be made to pay to the extent of their ability, and every recreant public officer at least be dismissed. Public guardianship will never be improved if examples are not made of those who betray their trust. There was plenty of authority for closing the place the moment danger was suspected, and, as pointed out, any officer having to do with public safety should have suspected danger under such circumstances.

The safety of every community in the state demands that all join on such an occasion as this to see to it that those guilty of such flagrant and deadly carelessness are treated as they deserve.—Pittsburg Post.

New York papers carried a lengthy account of an operation recently performed on a prominent New York society woman to enhance her beauty. A deft surgeon slit the skin at the corner of her mouth, took several quick stitches, and lo and behold, milady's mounth became smaller and a hundredfold more beautiful. We hate to think what might of happened if the aforesaid surgeon should have been absent minded and inserted several extra stitches. The result might have been disastrous, to say the least. A woman takes an awful chance with such an operation, when she stops to think that mere man, by the generous plying of the needle, could insure the last word in any argument, for whoever heard of a woman talking with her mouth shut. The "sewed smile" may be popular, but—"insure us".

Men used to fight over women, but the Pennsylvania fair sex seem to have reversed the precedent. From accounts of an affair at Uniontown recently two women, after a heated argument over the man of their choice, who happened to be one and the same, drew revolvers and fird. One fell mortally wounded. Cheer up, boys. Don't faint.

FOREST FIRES.

There will be plenty of fires later in the year, state the forestry men. Lightning will set some, and campers, motorists, railroads, picknickers, and brush burners a good many more. The Forest service is not taking any chances, however, for its 3,000 smoke chasers, fire lookouts, rangers, and supervisors are all "on their toes" to put into motion, at a moment's notice, the big fire-fighting machinery they have developed.

Eighty per cent of the forest fires that occurred in the United States during the past five years were due to human carelessness. A camp fire left burning, a lighted match or cigarette butt thoughtlessly thrown aside, the foresters say, often cause conflagrations that take days and weeks of work to suppress. It is for this reason that they ask every good citizen to adopt as a part of his daily creed the motto of the Forest Service—PUT OUT, KEEP OUT—FOREST FIRES.

DECORATE ON JULY FOURTH

The John Shade Post of the American Legion, has undertaken to give Clearfield a celebration on the coming Fourth of July that will long be remembered in Clearfield county. Members of the legion have given unsparingly of their time, and have worked ceaselessly to make the affair a success. From all indications they will succeed.

It is up to the citizens of Clearfield to join with the legion, in so far as possible, in seeing that their places of business and residences are fittingly decorated in keeping with the gala occasion. There has been too much proneness on the part of many to measure their patriotism on Decoration day and Fourth of July by the display of a meager bit of bunting, and by tacking up a couple of wee sma'flags on the front porch.

In view of the fact that the legion has spared neither time nor expense for the coming celebration why not loosen up the purse strings and each and every citizen show visitors here on the Fourth that Clearfielders don't put the Almighty Dollar ahead of Patriotism.

Have your yards cleaned up, grass and shrubbery trimmed, and your porch decorated.

Uncle Walt's Story

PLEASURE OF GIVING

"SKIMBACK, the banker, is acquiring quite a reputation as a philanthropist," observed the druggist. "He's always giving to somebody or something, and I notice that the sickening details always get into print. He believes in keeping his left hand posted as to what his right hand is doing, and nobody ever will see him concealing any of his lights under a bushel."

"I'm .sorry to hear you refer to that great and good man in sarcastic terms," said the village patriarch. "Every day I hear similar remarks concerning him, and I think it a poor appreciation of his generosity. As you say, he's always giving, and it's a small business to look a gift horse in the mouth, as the psalmist says. If he hires a man with a megaphone to announce his benefactions, he isn't hurting anybody.

"Caustic things are said of every philanthropist who manages to get some advertising out of his liberality, but it's my opinion that you'll have to hunt a long time, with a searchlight and a pair of gumshoes, before you find the man who enjoys doing good by stealth. If you do find him, he will prove to be a freak, and it will be your duty to see him returned to the asylum from which he escaped.

"We are all more or less hungry for the approbation of our friends and fellow citizens. And I am glad it's so. If we didn't care three whoops what our friends thought of us, we wouldn't paint our houses, or mow our lawns, or trim our whiskers. We wouldn't spend any money for flowers or boiled shirts or any of the things which make life beautiful and attractive. If a man spends a lot of money for a gorgeous lawn, with real trees and expensive flowers, and all sorts of ornaments, he's doing it because he wants to be praised by the people who see it all. You don't see any such lawns in lonesome rural districts. There the front yard always is a calf pasture.

"The farmer reasons that it's no use having a pretty lawn, for there's nobody to admire it. Nobody ever goes past the place except an occasional lightning rod agent or a man who is taking orders for fruit trees.

"Why don't you sneer at the town man who puts so much money into beautiful grounds? It's all a grandstand play. He expects to get advertising out of it, and he does, and he deserves it. We shouldn't criticize any man who is doing good, even if we don't like his methods.

"Some people say that Skimback is trying to atone for all the sinfulness of his past career. It is argued that until recent years he never gave away anything, but was after the dollars by day and night, and didn't care who got hurt so he overtook and captured them. They tell of mortgages he foreclosed, causing unspeakable suffering here and there. He is accused of resorting to every dark trick to increase his hoard. Most of the stories probably are bunk, but what if they are true? Now that he shows signs of repentence in his old age we should encourage him in every possible way, and if he gives a phonograph to the high school, or puts up a public drinking fountain in the public square, we should tell him he's everybody's darling, and not dig up a lot of ancient history for his confusion.

"I haven't much money to give away, but when I do loosen up to the extent of a dollar or two I like to have an audience. I like to imagine that people are saying, 'What a great-hearted, benevolent old geezer he is!' The other morning a man approached me and asked me to contribute something toward putting a new steeple on the church, and I began to explain that church steeples are out of date, when he interrupted to say that the names of all contributors would be printed in the paper, and then I dug up $5 without further words. And we're all tarred with the same stick, my friends."

Not What She Meant.

HOUTZDALE TOSSES HAT INTO THE RING

Manager McDermott and His Ball Players Ready to Clean All Comers—Defeated Osceola Thursday.

Houtzdale, which lays claim to being about the gamiest little town in Clearfield county, does not propose to take backwash from any of the more pretentions villages in this neck of the woods when it comes to maintaining a real baseball club.

The Houtzdale fans have not only thrown their hat in the baseball ring but they have got together a ball club second to none in this section. They opened the season last Thursday by defeating the strong Osceola bunch by an 8 to 5 score.

Francis McDermott, the old Bucknell football and baseball star, is manager of the team and has gathered together a fine bunch of baseball artists, among whom are Bellak, the Bucknell pitching ace; Brown, who caught for the Pittsburgh Nationals, last year; Billy McGowan, the local star second sacker and ten or a dozen others.

Houtzdale says she is going to trim Osceola, Philipsburg, and Clearfield, and Manager McDermott is now seeking to arrange games with all these teams.

THIS TIME LAST YEAR

St. Louis defeated the Reds twice and took second place in National League.

Smith, New York, made five hits in five times at bat.

Pittsburgh scored six runs off six hits and two passes.

Collins held the Red Sox to one hit but the Yanks got 18 and won 14 to 0.

GLEN RICHEY SQUAD DEFEATS SURVEYOR

The Glen Richey baseball team defeated Surveyor, with Aughinbaugh in the box, at the former place on Saturday last in a highly interesting game by the score of 5 to 2. The Glen Richey new battery—Jones and Jones—made its initial showing and covered itself with glory. Jones fanned sixteen men during the game.

The Glen Richey team has an open date for July 4th and Manager William Murray would like to hear from any Clearfield county team desiring a game on the Fourth Address him by July 1st.

The daily life of the Montenegrin peasant is full of superstition. He is superstitious about the manner in which he rises in the morning, about what first meets his sight, how he dresses and washes, and whom he meets, of what food he eats, and the time and manner of serving throughout the entire day.

Picked Up Along Third Base Line

Tom Gaffey, of St Mary's, an outfielder, with experience in the Blue Ridge League and as uitlity man with the Elcos reported to Manager Hoffman today. Saturday's Ridgway Record had the following to say of Gaffey: "Tom Gaffey, the St. Mary's outfielder has been signed by Manager Hoffman for his Clearfield team. He is only a youngster but is one of the hardest hitters seen in this section. He should have a bright baseball future ahead of him."

Fauver and Feeley were given their release today. Fauver was let go to accept an offer from Huntingdon.

Joe Golden, infielder of Philadelphia, reported today. He comes to Clearfield highly recommended.

Ben Gilbert, of Camden,N. J., who can pitch, play first base or gather them in with the best of them in the outfield reported today. He will replace Feeley at first base.

Harry Miller and Johnnie Smith, pitchers, are also expected to roll in today.

The locals play the Elco team at Ridgway tomorrow and Wednesday. When asked who his pitching selection for tomorrow's game would be Manager Izzy said he hadn't the least idea at this time, but would wait until he saw the new men warm up before the game.

The game of all games—that opener with Philipsburg—is scheduled for the driving park here on Thursday afternoon. Philipsburg is strengthening and a battle royal is assured the fans on this occasion.

The strong Brookville team will be the attraction here on Friday afternoon. Huntingdon will be with us on Saturday afternoon.

Manager Hoffman and about a dozen or more local fans saw the Elcos down Oil City at St. Mary's yesterday afternoon in an exciting 11 inning game, the final score being 3 to 2.

LOCALS MEET DEFEAT AT HANDS OF MT. UNION

Alexander Chased in Second Frame—Costello Finishes Game.

Manager Hoffman's Clearfield team met defeat at the hands of Mt Union at the later place on Saturday last, in a highly interesting and exciting game. The final score was 6 to 2.

Alexander was the manager's pitching selection but Alex did not appear to be in form and when the Mt. Union boys had poled out five hits, netting three runs, Alex was sent to the shower and Costello given a chance to shine.

But four hits were made off Costello in the seven innings he officiated. In his opening inning the first man was out, Fauver missed a chance to retire the second one by dropping a fly in right, after which Mt. Union chased three runs in.

Costello pitched a fine game during the remaining innings, the heavy hitting brick makers never having a chance to score again.

McCullough did the twirling for throughout. He allowed but seven hits and kept those hits so far apart that but two runs resulted. One was put over in the second while the other was garnered in the "lucky seventh."

Jennings at second and Catiz at third again starred in the field, while Kane's fielding was also a feature.

The score:

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

CURWENSVILLE

Raymond Sipes, wife and child, left Saturday night for a two weeks vacation visit among relatives in the north part of the state.

The American Legion ball team went out in battle array Saturday afternoon against an aggregation hailing from the Westover section. The home team did not put their old time vigor into the game and lost to their opponents by a combination of errors. Pitcher Leathers had no support practically at all. Score 6 to 4 in favor of visitors.

The hot weather blast of Saturday night did not whither the spirits of a crowd of young folks who put in several hours dancing in Moose hall.

No preaching service was held in the M. E. church Sabbath on account of the pastor being absent at Woodland, preaching in that edifice.

A number of Curwensville people are figuring on spending the glorious 4th of July at Clearfield, as that is the nearest place that is offering any inducement for a day's enjoyment.

A bunch of Curwensville men are now working on the State Highway at or near Bigler.

Unless rain comes in this section pretty soon, vegetables in town gardens will not amount to shucks as the plants are drying up from want and moisture. For seven successive days not the thermometer has pointed at an average of 92 in the shade.

Mr. Lloyd Addleman, one of the town's aged citizens is quite seriously ill at his home on George street.

Orlie Norris and several others have arranged to be in attendance at the Dempsey-Carpentier fight, which is to come off in New Jersey.

The Community Chautauqua was not quite so well attended Saturday afternoon and evening as the sessions ought to have been. The afternoon session was a musical program. In the evening Alexander Cairns entertained the audience by his talk on "The Goose That Lays the Golden Egg." He is a fine platform speaker and his talk pleased his audience well. The extremely warm evenings are a great drawback on high attendance.

Mrs. R. G. Bilger, who suffered a paralytic stroke a little more than a year ago, died at her home on West State street, yesterday afternoon. Obituary tomorrow.

Thomas Forcey and several other young men left on Saturday to join the U. S. radio corps. If they pass examinations successfully they will be sent to different stations at regular army camps.

"I am sometimes asked, Why be so blunt? Why not mix truth with metaphor? Why not sift the light thru myth and tradition and lore of antiquity? There is reason. Because my ears are full of the cries of my own children. It is because my eyes have caught the drawn, haggard faces of my own people. It is because my hands have touched and are dripping with new blood. The answer is, the emergency—emergency that blots out everything but God and need.'"

So asserted Dr. J. Aspinall McCuaig as without a word of slang, in language as chaste as the Sermon on the Mount, and with a simplicity that brought his meaning within the reach of the mind of a little child, he swayed his audiences with a torrent of irresistible logic as he swept from point to point in his remarkable addresses delivered in Clearleld yesterday.

With each service Dr. McCuaig's audiences grew in appreciation thus establishing the expectation that before the end of the series is reached no house will hold his audiences.

Tonight at 8 o'clock in the Presbyterian church, Dr. McCuaig will deliver the first of a series of his popular lectures on marriage. His subject will be "Nagging Wives and Overbearing Husbands." In graphic effectiveness and popular appeal this lecture is said to surpass anything upon the chautauqua platform or moving picture screen.

Tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock in the same church, Dr. McCuaig will deliver the second of his popular lectures to women when he will speak on "The Care of a Boy."

At the Lutheran Church.

Sunday morning in St. John's Lutheran church, telling the simple story of David as a shepherd lad slaying Goliath, the champion of the Philistines, Dr. McCuaig emphasized the point that God today is in need of men to champion His cause. There are times when the feet of God are tied so that He cannot run, and His hands tied so that He cannot strike; because He lacks the man by whom he can run and the man by whom he can strike."

Presbyterian Church.

A large audience of men gathered Sunday afternoon in the Presbyterian church, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., to hear the lecturer in his address on "Man's Relationship to Woman."

"The greatest problem of society," Dr. McCuaig declared, "is wrapped up in the relationship of the sexes."

In application of the argument of his lecture, which dealt largely with the enslavement of woman through the dominating passions of man, Dr. McCuaig said: "The greatest tragedy in Clearfield today is that your boys of twelve and fourteen are growing up into manhood without a confidant to whom they can go in regard to the one great developing force in life."

At Trinity M. E. Church.

Last night at 7:30 o'clock in Trinity M. E. church in a discussion of the question, "If a man die, shall he live again?" Dr. McCuaig took for his text Acts 4:33—"With great power gave the apostles their witness to the resurrection of the Lord Jesus."

Dr. McCuaig declared the hope of the resurrection to be that Christ is the first fruit of those who sleep and that the hour is coming when those who sleep in the dust shall come forth. The argument of the discourse was to show the incredibility of the position that there will be no resurrection. Stone after stone was laid in the argument, till the truth stood forth with irresistible logic.

At St. John's Lutheran Church.

The climax of the day's services came at 9 p. m. when in St. John's Lutheran church Dr. McCuaig addressed an attentive audience on "Tragedies of Marriage." He urged that the high and beneficient purpose of marriage be taught to the young so that it may be entered into with reverence and discretion and that as society does not put a check upon the marriage of the unfit, that church and school join hands in educating the young to graver appreciation of its responsibilities as well as a purer standard of its joys.

A Column of News and Timely Topics for the Man Who Feeds the World

Apples—Production.

The production of apples in the United States in 1919, according to the fourteenth census, was 136,746,154 bushels, as compared with 145,412,318 bushels in 1909, representing a decrease of 8,666,164 bushels, or 6 per cent. The average production per tree was 1.2 bushels in 1919, as compared with 1 bushel in 1909. The states reporting the largest production of apples in 1919 were Washington, with 21,568,691 bushels; New York, with 14,350,317 bushels; Virginia, with 8,942,520 bushels; California with 7,812,017 bushels; Arkansas, with 7,163,619 bushels; and Oregon, with 6,921,284 bushels.

Apple Trees.

The number of trees which have reached bearing age indicates the present status of any orchard fruit. The number of such apple trees in 1920 (including all trees which were old enough to bear fruit at the time of the enumeration, even though they may not have borne any fruit in 1919) was 115,263,09, as compared with 151,32 840 in 1910, representing a decrease of 36,057,811 trees, or 23.8 per cent.

One of the most significant indications of the progress or tendency in the growing of any orchard crop is the number of young trees in the orchards which have not yet reached bearing age. The number of apple trees not of bearing age (excluding nursery stock, not yet set in orchard locations) reported for 1920 was 36,171,604, as compared with 65,791,848 in 1910. These figures indicate a decrease of 9,620,244 trees or 45 per cent. This decrease in the number of young trees results partly from the fact that the years just preceding 1910 were years of especial activity in the planting of orchards in several states. Thus in most of the states of the Mountain Division the number of apple trees of bearing age has increased substantially, while the number of young trees shows an enormous decrease.

Peaches—Production

The production of peaches in 1919 was 51,551,251 bushels as against 35,480,276 bushels in 1909. The increase in production between 1909 and 1919 amounted to 16,080,975 bushels or 45.3 per cent. The average production per tree in 1919 was 0.8 bushel, as compared with 0.4 bushel in 1909. The states reporting the largest production of peaches in 1919 were California, with 15,969,073 bushels; Texas, with 4,842,129 bushels; Georgia, with 4,788,718 bushels; Arkansas, with 3,340,823 bushels; and Oklahoma with 2,947,973 bushels.

Peach Trees

The number of peach trees of bearing age in 190 was 65,654,91, as compared with 94,506,657 in 1910, representing a decrese of 28,851,736 trees, of 30.5 per cent.

The number of peach trees not of bearing age in 1920 was 21,623,657 as compared with 42,266,243 in 1910, a decrease of 20,632,586 trees, or 48.8 per cent.

SECOND SETTING OF APPLE BLOSSOMS

There have recently been many inquiries of the Pennsylvania Bureau of Plant Industry as to why, apple, pear and quince trees which have blossomed and set fruit should later on put out a second set of bloom, which is usually scanty in nature, though these later blossoms may be fertilized and bear good fruit.

The explanation lies in the fact that a terminal or shoot bud was killed by the spring frosts and one of the fruit buds cluster around it was compelled to take its place. These fruit buds would normally grow only enough during the coming summer to prepare them for blossom and fruit bearing in the summer of 1922. But since they have even thus early assumed the definite character of fruit buds, when compelled to change over and produce leafy shoots they cannot do so completely on such short notice. Hence under the stimulus of vegetative growth induced by the attempt to become a leafy twig, the blossoms in these buds, that would otherwise have remained dormant for a year, are forced into development and the leafy shoot bears one or more well developed terminal flowers. It is a curious fact that to the extent to which this second blossom set occurs on a tree, we are getting the crop destined for 1922 in the present season.

SPRAY IN HOT, DRY WEATHER

Lime sulphur spray applied in dilute form is commonly used for apple scab when the tree is in foliage, and some growers use it also on plums and peaches during the summer ,according to the Bureau of Plant Industry, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture. In the case of stone fruits especcially but also in apples at times ,there is a danger of burning the leaves and considerable damage has been done vene with vry dilute mixtures.

It is a matter of great practical interest to the fruit growers to note that the burning effect is most pronounced when the spray dries slowly or remains in liquid form for some hours, as in a dewy night. When the spray dries within a few minutes after application burning is not likely to occur.

The reason why saftey from burning lies in quick evaporation of the spray seems to be that when the various chemicals in the spray dry they undergo transformations which render them less soluble so that though the spray as applied will burn the leaf tissue if it remains in liquid form for some time, yet when the transformation attendant on drying have taken place the deposit on the leaves is so insoluble that it does not afterward dissolve enough in rain or dew to cause injury.

Summer spraying with lime sulphur should therefore be carried out in bright, sunny periods and not undertaken in dull, cool weather or near nightfall when there is prospect of dew.

DRINK HOT WATER BEFORE BREAKFAST EVERY MORNING

Hopes every man and woman here will adopt this splendid health habit.

Says a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it washes poisons from system, and makes one feel clean, sweet and fresh.

Why is man and woman, half the time, feeling nervous, despondent, worried; some days headachy, dull and unstrung; some days really incapacitated by illness.

If we all would practice the drinking of phosphated hot water before breakfast, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of thousands of half-sick, anaemic-looking souls with pasty, muddy complexions we should see crowds of happy, healthy, rosy-cheeked people everywhere. The reason is that the human system does not rid itself each day of all the waste it accumulates under our present mode of living. For every ounce of food and drink taken into the system nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out, else it ferments and forms ptomaine-like poisons in the bowels which are absorbed into the blood.

Just as necessary as it is to clean the ashes from the furnace each day, before the fire will burn bright and hot, so we must each morning clear the inside organs of the previous day's accumulation of indigestible waste and body toxins. Men and women, whether sick or well, are advised to drink each morning, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of washing out of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the indigestible material, waste, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Millions of people who had their turn at constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, sick headaches, rheumatism, lumbago, nervous days and sleepless nights have become real cranks about the morning-inside bath. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will not cost much at the drug store, but is sufficient to demonstrate to anyone its cleansing sweetening and freshening effect upon the system.

GOODWIN LIVED ON BROTH AND MILK

Pennsylvania Farmer Had Suffered From Indigestion Ever Since He Could Remember.

"I didn't weigh but 103 pounds when I commenced taking Tanlac, but now I tip the beam at 115 and am in as good health as anybody," declared Raymond S. Goodwin, a well-to-do farmer living on R. F. D. No. 1, out from Millerton, Pa.

"Ever since I can remember I have been bothered with indigestion. Then about two years ago I had the 'flu' and, as I was already in a badly run-down condition, I was down in bed for three weeks and at one time they nearly gave up hope for me. When I got up I found my stomach in a worse condition than ever and my appetite just about gone. I was so weak I could hardly get around and wasn't able to work all winter long.

"I had to live entirely on broth and milk and light things like that, and even this sometimes bloated me all up with gas. I had sharp pains all thru my chest and stomach and my heart beat so fast it scared me. I was bothered a great deal with constipation and often had sick headaches, spells and sudden attacks of dizziness. My nerves were all on edge and at night I could hardly get to sleep.

"Tanlac has done everything I expected and even more. My stomach never bothers me now and I can sit down and eat a big, hearty meal three times a day. I am not troubled with constipation and don't know what it is to have a headache or a dizzy spell. My nerves are steady and I sleep like a log. I have gained twelve pounds and am working on the farm regular every day."

The Third infantry, the oldest regiment of our army, which dates from 1784, has developed its arms to show its early service in Mexico. The baton which figures prominently in the regiment's history was made from the flagstaff of the capitol of the City of Mexico and was taken when the city was captured. It is still one of the most highly prized possessions of the regiment.

PARADISE PEOPLE SHOWERED WITH ALLEY APPLES

Brick Street and Hot Rays of Sun Combine to Scare Residents.

Paradise people were greatly alarmed for a few minutes Saturday afternoon when suddenly and without warning an explosion occurred and a large sized patch of the brick road above the hospital ble wout, scattering the bricks all over the landscape thereabouts.

Some of the natives, who have not been on their knees in years, dropped on their "prayer bones" and began to put up soulful howls for a seat "back from the heat," while others began to gather together the family possessions with a view to beating it out of the neghborhood, thinking a second Vesuvius was breaking through the earth's crust at that point. Finally one more venturesome than the rest approached the scene in fear and trembling, only to discover that instead of the expected volcano, the blow-up was due to the action of the heat of the sun. The brick when laid were covered with a cement grouting which does not allok sufficient expansion, so when she got too hot to stand the jar the explosion occurred and the bricks flew.

"APPEARANCES"
By CHARLES BEAHAN

Before Edward Knoblock came to this country to learn the use of his film tools he tried his hand at a theme for the London Studio of the Famous Players. It is the thematic to a degree, top-heavy with plot, unconvincing, and generally tyro work It is obvious that Mr. Knoblock's training as a playywright was too much for him.

He turned to rather characteristic material—the tragedy of keeping up appearances when neither party to the marriage contract can afford it. Irritability, jealousy and disaster follow in normal sequence to such a premise, and the happy ending follows because it has to. The film has been stuffed with more catchpenny significence than it can stand, and it is a rather wabbly five reels in consequence.

Explanation of Name "Canada."

There are various theories as to how Canada came to be so called, one which meets with wide approval is that the word Canada is derived from an Indian word, "Kannatha," meaning a village or collection of huts, and it is supposed that Jacques Cartier, hearing this word used by the Indians with reference to their settlements, mistook its meaning, and applied it to the whole country.

EVE'S SISTER, OLDEST OF WOMEN REACHES LONDON

By A. J. WEST,
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

London, June 27.—Eve's sister has arrived in London.

She lies in a square deal packing-case in the Egyptology section of the University College, Gower street, and she doesn't mind in the least being called the oldest young woman in the world.

Professor Flinders Petric, who has been reawakening the centuries in Egypt, has just brought this Mummy to London. She is at least 8,000 years old. Beside her Moses is quite a modern young fellow, and to her the twelve Caesars are but as yesterday.

She lived in pre-dynastic Egypt, long before history had begun. She was thousands of years before the Pyramids and before men chipped on stone the record of their lives and times. Although other pre-dynastic skeletons have been discovered in Egypt, this is the oldest preserved body of a woman ever known.

Experts say she was about twenty years old when she died. She lies with her knees drawn up to her chin and one hand resting before her mouth. Her preservation is due to exposure in the sun. She has been sun-dried and then left in the sands of Egypt while empire rose and fell and centuries, like tides, washed over the world.

Most of her bones are exposed, a pale amber color, and here and there a few inches of neatly woven cloth adheres to them—her 8,000-year-old gown! Her head is wonderfully preserved. Her eyes were large, her forehead broad, and she was certainly a tall, slim girl.

The museum, in which she lies, contains some beautiful, soft Egyptian fabrics. Perhaps some night a poor little ghost will be seen looking for a new dress, because at the moment Eve's sister is by far the worst dressed woman in London.

"The song of birds is all about,
Not gay, but just contented;
The air is laden with the sweets
Of roses, fragrant scented."

SEASONABLE GOOD THINGS.

When what to have for meat puzzles you try a stuffed beef heart or two or three calves' hearts. Let the heart soak in cold water and trim carefully. After standing two hours in the water, drain and wipe dry and stuff the heart or hearts with the following forcemeat: To one cupful of breadcrumbs add one tablespoonful each of chopped celery, onions and butter. Season with salt and pepper to taste. Sew up and place in a roasting pan with a good-sized piece of suet. Bake in a moderate oven for two hours if a beef heart, one-half hour if calves' hearts are used.

Denver Potatoes.—Peel several oval-shaped potatoes, cut in halves lengthwise and scoop out a small hole in the center of the smooth side. Put a lump of butter in each. Add salt and pepper and with a little water in the pan, bake in the oven until brown.

Peach Ice Cream.—Take one quart of ripe peaches, pare and mash them fine, then put through a sieve, sweeten very sweet, and to each quart of peach pulp add one quart of rich milk or thin cream, adding three blanched and pounded peach kernels.

Grape Juice Pie.—Take one cupful of grape juice, one and one-half cupfuls of sugar, (less if the grape juice is sweet). Mix one tablespoonful each of flour and cornstarch with the sugar, add to the grape juice and cook until smooth. Add one tablespoonful of butter and pour into a baked crust. Cover with a meringue.

Asparagus Soup.—Take two cupfuls of asparagus tips, four cupfuls of chicken stock, one small onion, the yolks of three eggs, one-half cupful of heavy cream or evaporated milk, three-fourths of a teaspoonful of salt, and pepper to taste. Cover the asparagus tips with cold water, add onion and simmer for eight minutes, rub through a sieve, reheat, add cream, eggs, seasonings and serve after straining.

Blackberry Pie No. 2.—Prepare and bake a rich pastry shell, fill with fresh sugared berries, top with sweetened whipped cream and serve well chilled.

Entirely Too Much.

"It is terrible what I spent during the entertainments for charity," re-elared Mrs. Newrich. "Two thousand for my dress and five hundred for my coat, besides the twenty for my charity contributions. It is too much."

EDUCATIONAL NEEDS EMPHASIZED BY BAPTIST LEADER

Des Moines, Ia., June 27.(United Press.)—Emphasing the need of Christian Education, Dr. Gilbert N. Brink, of the American Baptist Publication Society, Philadelphia, today sounded a warning to the delegates at the Northern Baptist Canvention here that,

Unless the nation is to pay dearly for neglect in developing character, the church must be as efficient in religious education as the state is in secular education; that

The churcch must take its part in solving social unrest and acute industrial questions by expressing Christ's spirit of brotherhood and confidence.

Gossip for Tonight's Tea Table

Mrs. B. E. Lansberry and daughter Beryl of Jersey Shore are spending a few days here with relatives and friends.

Miss Ruth Rowe, who has been living in Washington, D. C., is now the guest of her sister, Mrs. F. G. Chorpenning on Pine street.

Beatrice McDowell and Marie Flegal left today to spend a few days at Chambersburg.

Graydon Thorn and Robert Ferguson, C. H. S. graduates of the class of 1921, started Thursday last on a hike to Harrisburg and return. They carry a camping outfit and expect to pitch their tent where night overtakes them or where they feel like stopping. They made the trip from Clarfield to Port Matilda the first day, arriving at the latter place at 8 p. m.

Mrs. Clarence E. Berner, of Harrisburg, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Boyd Thorn, at their home on Ogden avenue at present.

PAIGE
The Most Beautiful Car in America

Now It Costs $1635

Even before the price reduction on June 7th, our five-passenger "Glenbrook" model was conceded to be the greatest dollar-for-dollar value of all light six motor cars.

Now—with the price reduced to $1635—it must be evident that opportunity is knocking at the door of every man who knows an unusual investment when he sees it.

The new price is amazingly low. It will appear absurd after you have had one ride behind the motor that accelerates from five to twenty-five miles per hour in nine seconds flat.

And remember, please, the "Glenbrook" is a distinctly new product—not an old model repainted and re-christened with a 1921 label. It is a splendid investment now and will be a splendid investment one year from now.
